

Just Like Lovers Do

In the darkest hours of the morning - shadows come out to play
Street lights create a setting - like you're standing on a stage
And the dampness on the sidewalk - sparkles like diamond studs
And you might as well have taken some hallucinatory drug
Maybe this love is illusion - maybe this love is true
I just want to get a little close to you - just like lovers do
Yeah, I just want to get a little close to you - just like lovers do

It's 2 o'clock in the morning - baby what you want to do
Hours passed without warning - being here with you
We can watch the moon on the water - finish this bottle of wine
And I know a place around the corner - you get breakfast all the time
Maybe this love is illusion - maybe this love is true
I just want to get a little close to you - just like lovers do
Yeah, I just want to get a little close to you - just like lovers do

Love is like a window - love can open, love can shut
Love lets you see the big wide world - when it's broken, love cuts
Love can be so close to you - like sleepin' in your bed
Love can be so far away - you might be feelin' like your love is dead
Some say love is illusion - some say love is true
I just want to get a little close to you - just like lovers do
I just want to get a little close to you - just like lovers do
I just want to get a little close to you - just like lovers do [repeat]
